

HTML Tags

- I used the tag to put in the image of the character I was talking about
- I used the <table> tag to insert a table of the different characters and their mental disorders
- I used the tag to change the font of the body
- I used the <H1> tag to create a header for the page
- I used the  tags to make my paragraphs
- I used the <DIV> tags to divide the page into sections when making the transparent box and for different paragraphs
- I used the Link tag  to add a link to more information about the mental disorder
- I used the  tag to italicize my subtitle
- I used the tag to include breaks in my paragraphs
- I used <cite> tag to cite the movie I was talking about.
- I used the tag to bold my conclusion paragraph.

CSS Styles

- For CSS I used the opacity property to make the transparent box for the image.
- For CSS I used the center align element to center my image in the transparent box.
- I used the CSS style to make the header title in the header box have certain properties like font size, background color, padding, border, etc.
- I used CSS to make the padding bigger on my tables and to have a background color for my table and to center the text in my table
- I used the CSS background color property to change the background color of the webpage.
- I used the <P STYLE> to center align my paragraph